[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Election of Western Union Directors.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—At an election for Directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company to-day, the following persons were chosen: Wm. Orton, James H Barker, Alonzo B. Cornell, Harrison Durkee, Norvin Green, Joseph Harker, Edwin R. Morgan, Augustus Schell, W. K. Thorne, C. Vanderbilt, Frank Work, Chester W. Chapin, Ezra Cornell, Cyrus W. Field, Wilson G Hunt, David Jones, C. Livingston, G. H. Rumford, O. H. Palmer, G. M. Pullman, E S. Sanford, Hiram Sibley, John Stewart, Moses Taylor, W. H. Vanderbilt, W R Vermilye, E B Wesley, Stillman Witt, E. D. Worcester. The election for officers takes place to-morrow.

Preliminaries to Stokes' Third Trial.

The third trial of Edward S Stokes for the murder of James Fisk began to-day in the Court of Oyer and Terminer. His counsel moved a postponement, on the ground of the absence of a material witness. The motion was denied, and he then challenged the legality of the jury panel, when a recess was taken to give the District Attorney time to consider the challenge. After recess, law points were argued, Judge Davis holding his decision until to-morrow morning. The Court then adjourned.

Fire Flotsam.

A fire broke out in Mount Vernon, New York, early this morning. Several steamers were sent from this city to aid in extinguishing the fire. The Post says twenty buildings were burned. The loss will be $50,000. A man was caught in the act of starting the fire.

A brush factory in Morrisania and a residence adjoining were burned early this morning. Loss, $40,000. The incendiary was not arrested. While this and Mount Vernon were blazing an incendiary fired an unoccupied building in Westfarms and it was burned to the ground. No arrests.

Simon says we "Do not need $44,000,000."

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A Washington special says Senator Cameron had a long interview with the President yesterday, and reports the latter, as well as himself, strongly opposed to drawing on the $44,000,000 greenback reserve.

Fire in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8.—A fire here to-day destroyed a square of buildings bounded by Marguey, Mandeville, Goodchildren and Moriles streets; forty small houses. Loss, $50,000.

Yellow Fever.

SHREVEPORT, Oct. 8.—Ten deaths from yellow fever to-day.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 8.—Thirty-one deaths from yellow fever to-day.

The Mining Yacht Appears.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The yacht Meta arrived off Egg harbor at 9 o'clock last night. All well.

Fire at Newton, Mass.

BOSTON, Oct. 9.—Elliott Block, Newton, Mass., owned by J. W. Bacon, was burned last night. Bacon's loss is $35,000; insured for $2,000. Other losses not stated.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The failure of Gibson, Casenna & Co. and S. B. Hurd is announced on the Stock Exchange to-day.

The Financial Situation in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Some of the banks have virtually resumed payment of greenbacks. Mr. Camp, Manager of the Clearing House, said since the issue of loan certificates, there has not been seen so many greenbacks as were seen yesterday when clearances were made. A Wall street broker, spoken to on the same subject, said he thought greenbacks had become sufficiently plenty to allow resumption. In case, however, the pressure became too great, the banks would, no doubt, fall back on the plan followed during the past two weeks, as a measure of safety. There seemed no reason, he said, why the payment of legal tenders should not go on. Trade was prosperous. Produce men are buying for and receiving larger quantities of grain than had been received in any time before. Shipments of grain from the West had been greater during the past week, than during any week in the history of the country, and all this had been paid for in legal tenders.

A Washington special says that owing to small receipts from revenue the Treasury officials say it will be necessary to issue eight or nine millions of the $44,000,000 reserve to meet Government current expenses of the present month.

Work Stopped on Account of Strike of Female Operatives.

READING, Pa., Oct. 9.—Bushers & Bro., bankers, suspended this morning.

A number of female operatives in Campbell's mills, at Manyunk, struck in consequence of a reduction of wages and five days' work in a week. They are visiting other mills to induce a general strike.

Trial of Stokes Commenced.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The trial of Edward S. Stokes, murderer of Fisk, resumed this morning. Judge Davis sustained the challenge to the array of jurors, and the counsel for the prisoner asked leave to withdraw it, asserting that in investigation by them showed that the panel was drawn in the usual way, and without intention to prejudice. The work of impaneling a jury then began.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Naval Orders.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Capt. Paul Shirley is ordered to the command of the naval rendezvous at San Francisco, California, on the 20th inst.

Capt. Louis C. Sartori is detached from Mare Island Navy Yard, and placed in waiting orders.

Capt. Chas. H. Baldwin is detached from the command of the naval rendezvous at San Francisco, and ordered to duty as Executive Officer at Mare Island Navy Yard.

Burial of Gen. John A. Rawlins.

President Grant and members of his Cabinet, Gen. Sherman, Gen. Babcock, a brother of the late John A. Rawlins and several personal friends were present at the Congressional Cemetery this afternoon, assisting in transfering the remains of the late Gen. John A. Rawlins from the vault in which they have reposed since the day of his funeral, to a grave in the same cemetery prepared for their reception.

Indian Matters.

Secretary Delano to-day received the following telegram from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs

"FORT SILL, Oct. 8.—Gov Davis and party arrived yesterday. They have held a preliminary council with Kiowa chiefs. Severe measures will probably be necessary with Comanches here, which make it very important that Cheyennes, now residing near Pueblo, should be destroyed or captured. Their chiefs told that the men went against their wishes and in defiance of their agent. They disclaim all responsibility for them. A blow there will make the solution here much easier by preventing tribes above from joining the Comanches. The Indians must be kept on their reservations by punishment when other means fail. (Signed) ED P. SMITH.

The dispatch was sent to the War Department, and it was agreed to take immediate action. Secretary Delano telegraphed Smith that orders had been given by the War Department to strike the raiding Cheyennes near Pueblo as soon as possible, and keep him Delano advised of events.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Overland passenger, G S Mattison, Oregon.

Much interest is manifested in the coming election for Police Judge in this city. It is stated that the gambling fraternity has organized, and propose to raise and use a joint fund for the election of Drake. On the other hand it is reported that Londerback has secured the support of the Crescents.

Thirty-four thousand centals of wheat were received in this city to-day.

Crown Point declares a dividend of $3 per share, amounting to $300,000, payable Saturday.

Able seamen are again scarce, and four ships are waiting for crews.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—The south portion of the Beal street wharf fell to-day, letting 2,000 sacks of wheat belonging to Starr Bros. into the bay. A large quantity of railroad ties also went down.

Members of the crew of the ship St. Charles, from New York, have entered a complaint of inhuman treatment during the voyage. They say one of their mates was shot in the head, and another hewed down with a cutlass by one of the mates.

Interior California.

STOCKTON, Oct. 9.—The Stockton Grange adopted a memorial to Congress opposing any subsidy to the San Joaquin and King's River Canal Irrigation Co.

The attendance at the State meeting of the Christian Church to-day, in Good Water Grove, was very large. Statements about the condition of two colleges in the State under the auspices of this church were received. This is the second year of one at Santa Rosa, which opened with 131 students. The building cost $25,000. The grounds are valued at from $10,000 to $15,000. It differs from other literary institutions in the State, in that it has no primary department. The number of students at the present time, all young men and women, is between 70 and 80. The State meeting will close Sunday.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY LEGISLATURE.

Fourth Biennial Session.

[From our Special Correspondent.]

OLYMPIA, Oct. 8, 1873.

House met at 11 A. M. After roll call and journal approved, House Bill No. 1 was read a second time and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

An act fixing the compensation of the County Auditor of Walla Walla county at $1,800 per annum, to take effect from Jan. 1, 1874, was read a second time and referred to the delegation from Walla Walla.

An act fixing the compensation of the Treasurer of Walla Walla county at $1,500 per annum was referred to the same committee.

An act to incorporate Kalama Lodge No. 17, F. & A. M., received a first and second reading, and was referred to the Committee on Corporations.

A message was here received from the Council, stating that that body had acted on the joint resolutions presented by the House, and had appointed committees to wait on the Governor, and to confer on printing.

In the House there are twenty-seven members present this morning, and seven in the Council.

At noon the House took a recess till 2 P. M., at which time the Speaker called to order, and the Committee on Joint Resolutions reported as having waited on His Excellency Governor Ferry, who stated that he would be ready to deliver his message to-morrow (Thursday), at 11 A. M., and it was thereupon unanimously resolved that the House and Council meet in joint convention at that hour, to receive the message, after which the House adjourned to meet at 10 A. M. to-morrow.

TRIAL OF C. W. MEEK.

HILLSBORO, October 9th, 1873

The trial of Meek still continues. The examination of witnesses is very tedious. At 4 o'clock yesterday the prosecution rested their case. The only feature of attraction seemed to be the testimony of one R. Eads, on the part of the State, which is reported to have fell in the midst of the counsel for defense like an exploding shell, creating universal consternation among the friends of the accused, and giving the friends of the deceased on the street a decided advantage, the pressure on both sides being very strong. The remainder of the evening was taken up by the defense in examining and sending for witnesses to overcome the testimony of Eads. Court adjourned at six o'clock P. M.

At 9 A. M. the Court was called. Counsel for defense seemed to be exceedingly hopeful. The defendant seemed to be enjoying excellent spirits, and was accompanied to his seat by Miss Olive, who took a seat by his side. Miss Olive was not looking so well as yesterday, plainly showing traces of grief and anxiety. The Prosecuting Attorney, G. H Durham, seemed perfectly calm, showing a disposition to leave nothing unturned that would aid in sifting the whole matter and place the whole truth before the jury. The excitement and speculation on the street is running very high, and we have heard of bets being made as to the final result, which we consider as decidedly showing the ruling passion of some men. The Court room is filled to every available inch by ladies and gentlemen who are anxiously watching the progress of the trial.

At 10 A. M. this morning Wm. Rosell was brought into Court and sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the Hotel de Watkinds. William takes the matter philosophically, and we predict that if there is any easy place about the establishment Billy is sure to get it, on account of his experience in locating such places.

The evidence in the Meek case closed to-day at 11 o'clock. The opening speech was made by B Y Thompson on the part of the State, which was spoken of by a number of men as a masterly effort. At the close of Mr. T's speech the Court took a recess for dinner until one o'clock. The verdict will not, in all probability, be given until to-morrow.

THE EXECUTION.

The Preparations---The Citizens and Loyal Indians assemble.

The Doomed Men on the Gallows---Their Last Words.

Captain Jack and Schon-chin John do not wish to die---Hope for Pardon up to the Last Moment.

Commutation of Sentence of Barnacho and Slo-lux to Imprisonment for Life.

THE DROP FALLS.

Old Chief Schon-chin's Speech to Gen. Wheaton.

All Quiet at Fort Klamath.

Modocs to be Removed.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

FORT KLAMATH, Oregon, Oct. 2, 1873.

There is much excitement at Fort Klamath to-day in anticipation of the execution at 10 o'clock to-morrow of Capt. Jack, Schon-chin John, Black Jim, Boston Charley, Barncho or One-eyed Jim, and Slolux or Rock George, convicted for the killing of Briadier General Canby and Dr. E. Thomas, and the attempted murder of Hon. A. B. Meacham and Hon. L. S. Dyar, in the Lava Beds, on the 11th day of April, 1873.

Confined with them in the guard-house at Fort Klamath, are nine other Modocs, among them, Curly Headed Doctor, Pete Schon-chin, Sko-lock-ne, One-eyed Mose, Buckskin Doctor and Long Jim, charged with the murder of the citizens of the Tule Lake country—eighteen in number, immediately after the commencement of hostilities in November last.

IN THE GUARD-HOUSE.

At 11 o'clock to-day Bvt. Maj Gen. Frank Wheaton, several other officers, U. S. Army Chaplain Heckenburg, correspondents and interpreters, visited the prisoners in the guard-house. They were taken from their cells into the main room of the guard-house. This was quite a relief to the thirteen heavily ironed men, as they found some little enjoyment in a change of position, and in scanning the landscape through larger windows.

The Chaplain first addressed the prisoners at some length, explaining to them the nature of the Christian religion, and the necessity of repentance before acceptance as children of the Great Spirit. The address was clear and forcible, but elicited no response from the prisoners at the time. After this had been fully interpreted by O. C. Applegate, Gen. Wheaton informed the prisoners that all except those charged with the murder of Gen. Canby and Dr. Thomas might hope to live; their treatment, however, depending in some measure on their future conduct. These, nine in number, were then returned to their cells, and only the six doomed men remained. They had never yet been informed of the fearful sentence passed upon them, and, as the sequel proved, had most of them treasured hopes of a release and happy settlement on the Klamath Reservation among the loyal Modocs, under the hereditary Chief, Schon-chin, and their ancient allies, the Klamaths.

Capt. Jack, Schon-chin and Boston Charley, all heavily ironed, sat on a bench in front of the General, officers and spectators, and Black Jim, Barnacho and Slolux sat, or reclined in their chains on the floor, leaning against the walls of the guard room.

Gen. Wheaton then announced to them through the Chaplain the nature of their sentence, that the edict had actually gone forth, and that they could only hope to see the light of one other day's sun. As the gloom of their terrible disappointment settled upon them,

CAPT. JACK BROOKS AS WITH A CHILL,

And the firm face of Schon-chin John, for a moment by its nervous twitchings, betrayed how fully he realized his position. Black Jim at first grew pale, but after a little while the dark shadow came upon his face again and he assumed his usual firm and resolute look. But Boston Charley, the boy-fiend, received the announcement without the least evidence of feeling.

THE INTERVIEW—CAPTAIN JACK'S LAST WORDS—HIS ESTIMATE OF CERTAIN WARRIORS.

Gen Wheaton then explained that an opportunity would now be given them to talk and say anything they could in explanation of their conduct, and to express themselves in regard to a preparation for death. Capt. Jack then commenced in a low and tremulous voice to speak as follows:

I have always tried to be a good man. Long ago the white people gave me a heart, and I have tried to keep it in my breast. I have always been for peace, and some of my young men would not take my advice. Hooker Jim, Bogus Charley, Shag-nas-ty Jim and Steamboat Frank were the cause of the murder of the citizens and of the Commission. It is hard for me to have to die when these men, who were the real cause of the trouble, remain at liberty. They walk around the garrison and feel as though

THEY HAD TRIUMPHED OVER THE SOLDIER-CHIEF AND THEIR OWN CHIEF.

Bogus Charley is the man who took the lead in the killing of the Commissioners, and I would be better satisfied if he were brought to trial. He was the man who influenced me, and he has proved a traitor to both sides. Hooker Jim and Bogus Charley were leaders in the murder of the Commission. I want to tell you to-day all there is in my heart and leave nothing unsaid. I know that Shag-Nasty Jim killed Gen Canby and shot Meachum and that Boston Charley killed Dr Thomas. Boston Charley knows that Shag-Nasty helped him to kill Dr. Thomas. Since I have been in irons here, Shag Nasty Jim told me that he had acknowledged to Gen Wheaton that he had taken part in the killing of Dr Thomas, and that Gen Wheaton took no notice of it that he had killed Gen Canby. But I think he lied about having told Gen Wheaton that. After the killing of the Commissioners, Bogus Charley told me that he knew he was to blame for that affair and that I although Chief, had not the blood of Gen Canby and Dr Thomas on my hands, and would not be held accountable. These men Bogus and Hooker had a relative named George killed in the Lava Bed. He was able to control the young men, but after he died they would not listen to me and I could not control them.

Gen Wheaton I would like to know what the theory of the Modoc was in regard to killing of the Peace Commissioners? What did they expect to gain by it? Did they suppose the President would remove his troops in case they were successful in killing the Commissioners and chief officers of the Army?

Capt Jack—I asked the young men who instigated the murder what they expected to gain? I wanted peace but they said they were not ready for peace and gave no other reason. Long ago the whites gave me good advice and a paper, and I was always for peace even after the first fight on Lost River. The young men who had killed the people on Tule Lake, were against it. I was ready for peace any time. Did not counsel other tribes to go on the war-path. But two different bands came to me, the Hot Creeks and Combatwas, and wanted war. They made my heart sick when I saw they were determined on fighting. When I surrendered and was brought to Fort Klamath, I had no idea of being ironed and put in the guard house, for I knew I was not the instigator of the Peace Commission murder but thought I would be allowed to live quietly on the Reservation with my people.

Gen. Wheaton—Your people will be well taken care of by Government. They will be taken to a comfortable place and properly provided for. I would like to know who you wish to leave in charge of your family when you are gone?

Capt. Jack—I can think of no relative I would like to trust. I could not depend on Scar-Face Charley. I am a good man and do not wish to die, and would like to be left in charge of my family and people.

Gen Wheaton—Your family will be allowed to come in after we get through with this talk, and spend the day with you.

Capt Jack—I think, perhaps, the President if he could see and hear me, would not take my life.

Gen Wheaton—The President's order will be carried out.

Capt. Jack—The President is a long distance off, and he has not heard everything right, perhaps. If he were here, so that I could see and talk to him, he might not see fit to kill me.

Gen. Wheaton—The Great Father's children are many millions, and he cannot go to see them all when they get into trouble. He must rely on the representations of good men in whom he has confidence.

Capt. Jack—I do not like to talk much more, but I would like to have the execution postponed until the substance of my speech of to-day can be laid before the President. In my talk so far I have only mentioned Bogus Charley, Hooker Jim and Shag-nasty as bad men, but Scar-face Charley is also a very bad man, and was always in for every bloody enterprise during the war.

Gen Wheaton—The decision of the President was made on mature deliberations—not hastily.

Capt. Jack—I know, judging by the delay, that he was not hasty in the matter, and I think he would wait for my speech to-day.

Gen. Wheaton—Do not expect any encouragement, but think over what the Chaplain has told you.

Capt. Jack—I know what the Great Spirit man has said, and that it was very good. If I am permitted to live, I can follow his advice, and will have more time to prepare for the other world.

THE THING NOW UPPERMOST

In my mind is to see Bogus Charley and Hooker Jim, and to charge them with being at the bottom of the Peace Commission murder.

Gen. Wheaton—I will give you an opportunity to see them, but would advise you not to spend your last moments in an altercation or dispute with them.

Capt. Jack—It is terrible to think I have to die when I can see nothing bad in my heart. I always wished to die a natural death—a death becoming a good man.

He was then informed if he wished anything during the day to make known his wants to the officer of the guard, and that his family would be sent to him.

SLOLUX SPEAKS.

Slolux—I want to talk a little to-day. White people call me George. I was arrested and chained through misrepresentations. My child died yesterday in the stockade, and I am confined here in the guard-house, and cannot be with the other mourners. Show me a man who will say I was present at the time of the murder of General Canby and Dr. Thomas? I would like to know who the witnesses were who testified against me. Perhaps Riddle's wife, Tobe. I am innocent. I took no part in the murder of the Peace Commissioners. I am here on the misrepresentations of Tobe. I say this to the Great Spirit man: I am not guilty. I told Captain Anderson it was wrong, to keep me in irons, and he did not release me.

BARNACHO PROTESTS HIS INNOCENCE.

Barnacho—I, also, am an innocent man. I told Captain Anderson this, and my idea was that I should be outside, instead of the men who really killed General Canby. I was not there when the killing took place, but was some distance away with another Indian.

General Wheaton said he believed the two prisoners, Barnacho and Slolux, were not charged with taking any part in the killing, but they were accused of bringing three guns each to the scene of the massacre.

SPEECH OF BLACK JIM, THE STOIC OF THE TRIBE.

Black Jim—I now say that my heart is good. I see many people here besides General Wheaton, and several men ready to put on paper everything said. I was always on hand, when I could be in the war, to do my part. In the first fight, on Lost river, I was shot through the body by soldiers, and for a long while during the war was not able to do any fighting, and was in for peace. Ever since I was a little boy I have always been known to tell the truth. I do not insist, like Captain Jack, in bringing other men in for trial, but only speak a little in my own defense. My heart tells me I am a good and a strong man, and can take care of the people if Jack and Schon-chin are executed, and I should be left as their chief. I am afraid of nothing, and if the law-chiefs decide that I have broken the law, I am willing to die.

General Wheaton here said that the Great Spirit man had advised them all to think in the same way.

Black Jim—I have been here for a long time, confined in the guard-house, and have had no opportunity to express myself till to-day. If we are to be executed, we would like to have the Great Spirit man talk, so we can be prepared for a better land.

Captain Jack—I have expressed myself to-day about Bogus Charley and Hooker Jim, and I hope the execution will be stayed until the President can know what I have said to-day. I do not think he understands me fully. I wish to be a good friend to the whites as long as I live, and I will do anything they ask me to do, or go any place in the world where they see fit to send me. When I made the treaty at Klamath I was friendly, and when I lived on the reservation only one Indian, Link River Jack, was my enemy.

General Wheaton here explained that the law officers had fully considered everything; that they had been very deliberate in sending their orders out, but that the decision had come, and that it was final.

BOSTON CHARLEY, THE MODOC WITH TWO HEARTS.

Boston was asked if he had anything to say. He replied

You all know me, Boston Charley. During the whole war I had two hearts—one Indian heart, and one white man's heart. I am but a boy and yet you know very well of what I am guilty. Although but boy, I feel that I am a man. When I look at the others I realize that they are women. When I die and go to the other world, I don't want them to go with me. I am not afraid to die. I am the only man in this room to day. I fought in the front ranks. Hooker Bogus and Shagnasty fought with me and are men also. I am no a half-woman. I killed Gen Canby, assisted by Steamboat Frank and Bogus Charley. Bogus said to me when he first proposed the murder of the Commission, "Do you think these men want to make peace?" I said, Yes. He said he did not believe it and would lead them into a trap and kill them. Capt Anderson was present when Bogus Charley came into Gen Canby's tent and left his gun. I would like to see all of my people and bid them good bye, and would like to go to the Stockade to see them all. If I was to commutate other parties it would not help me. Captain Jack has implicated others but I see it is too late. I know that Chief Jack and Schon-chin John were not at the bottom of that affair. They did not take so prominent a part in it as some younger men. I know very little and cannot say much, but do know what I see with my own eyes.

Gen Wheaton asked Boston if Gen Canby did not make him presents and treat him well? Why did you kill him?

Boston Charley—The giving of the presents the Modocs are confined. The six ropes hung from the high beam above the platform, the long coffins were placed upon the ground beneath, and the graves were already dug.

Many citizens of the adjacent country, and even from remote parts of the land, had congregated in and about the garrison, and the few Modocs permitted to wander about the post at will, looked gloomy and apprehensive.

As the eventful hour approached, officers moved about the post arranging the various details. Companies of troops marched and countermarched on the level and beautiful parade ground, their bright accoutrements glittering among the pine trees, and Klamath and loyal Modoc Indians from the Reservation came flocking in on their active little ponies to see their doomed relatives suffer the greatest penalty of the law. At nine o'clock A. M. the condemned were taken from the guard house, placed in a wagon and escorted by troops

TO THE GALLOWS.

On their arrival near the engine of death, Captain Jack and Schon-chin looked up toward the General and other officers sullenly. Black Jim was sullen and apparently unconcerned, while Boston Charley looked at the scaffold, then at the crowd, and smiled pleasantly, as though he did not realize the fearful significance of the preparations. The prisoners were placed on the platform, or on a bench, and their arms and legs carefully bound. General Wheaton having received a

COMMUTATION OF THE SENTENCE

Of Barnacho and Slo-lux to imprisonment for life, this intelligence was communicated to them, and they remained under guard at the foot of the scaffold until after the execution. This news did not seem particularly gratifying to these two men, for to the mind of an Indian, a transition to the land of the hereafter, is preferable to incarceration for life behind the bars of a prison.

The gallows occupied the center of a square about two hundred feet in diameter. Upon the east, south and west sides, troops were drawn up in line, and on the north were citizens in carriages and on foot, and five hundred loyal Klamath and Modoc Indians, seated in a line in front of the citizens. These Indians moved behind the troops from the garrison, in a column of twos, with military precision, and taking the place assigned to them in the line, maintained, during the whole time of the execution, the best order and decorum.

Brevet Major General Frank Wheaton, Capt. Hasbrouck, Capt. Kingsbury, Post Adjutant, Capt. Anderson (late Aid to General Canby), U. S. Assistant Surgeon McElderry and other officers took their position, standing twenty paces in front of the scaffold. The reporters occupied a stand a little nearer, and Colonel Hogue, the officer charged with the execution of the sentence, occupied a place on the platform with Corporal Ross, the executioner, and two or three assistants. Behind the scaffold was stationed a small guard, having in charge Slo-lux and Barnacho; while behind these, with a face as firm and immobile as that of a Grecian statue, stood Captain Jack's relative, his most reliable and courageous henchman,

SCAR-FACED CHARLEY,

The man who fired the first shot of the Modoc war, but who was only concerned (as far as any evidence has been elicited) in one murder. This is the man Captain Jack proposed as a substitute, and the only war Modoc permitted to stand near the scaffold during the execution. The others who have been at liberty, namely, William, Shag-Nasty, Hooker and Bogus, were this morning put into the stockade. As your correspondent rode past the stockade this morning with the loyal Modoc and Klamath Indians, the cries of sorrow and shrieks of despair that emanated [illegible] that enclosure were dreadful to hear. The wives, children, brothers and sisters of the condemned, looked with streaming eyes between the vertical logs, while the four doomed men sat like

BRONZE STATUES UPON THE SCAFFOLD.

In obedience to General Wheaton's request, Captain O. C. Applegate and Klamath Dave Hill went on the scaffold at 9:40 A. M., and, standing in front of the prisoners, explained to them that the orders from the Great Father in Washington would now be read to them; that as these orders had been explained to them yesterday they would not again be interpreted. Schon-chin John then said: "When I look at my heart I see it is good. I do not wish to die." And after Mr. Applegate had descended the stairs and stood behind the scaffold with Dave Hill and Scar-face Charley, Schon-chin turned his head toward him and said: "Boston Charley says he wants me to live because my heart is good. There are worse men among my people. Let one of them die for me.

LET SCAR-FACE CHARLEY DIE,"

The prisoners then all seemed more calm than Schon-chin. Boston Charley maintained his air of perfect self-possession. Black Jim was still, but looked dark and sullen, and Captain Jack was much more firm than we anticipated, judging from the effect the announcement of his doom had yesterday. But Schon-chin John was nervous and restless, and seemed to hope up to his last moment on earth that something would occur to save him.

THE EXECUTION.

Captain Kingsbury then read the charges, specifications, findings, decisions and orders in the case, which occupied twelve minutes. Then the Chaplain, standing about thirty paces in front of the gallows, offered a short but impressive prayer. Then Colonel Hogue took the hands of the four doomed men, bidding them good-bye. Only one of them, Boston Charley, looked up pleasantly and raised his hand a little to meet that of the officer. The ropes were then placed upon their necks, the black cap adjusted—during all of which time the prisoners were silent—and at exactly 10:15 A. M. the drop fell with a heavy thud, and Captain Jack, Schon-chin John, Black Jim and Boston Charley were launched into eternity. Captain Jack and Black Jim died instantly, their necks being broken, but Schon-chin John and Boston Charley struggled for some time. The lithe form of Boston moved convulsively several times, and twice the knees were drawn up. The muscular frame of Schon-chin was longest in convulsions, the knees being drawn up repeatedly. Finally the left hand was clenched and raised toward the heart, and then

A SUDDEN STRAIGHTENING OF THE IRON FRAME DENOTED THAT

Schon-chin John was no more. At the expiration of thirty minutes Surgeon McElderry examined the four bodies, and finding life extinct, they were cut down and carried by soldiers to a tent provided for the purpose, where the bodies were prepared for burial. And then the citizens took their departure, the troops moved back to their quarters, and the reservation Indians marched by the garrison, and, mounting their horses, rode homeward. Among those who lingered longest in the garrison was Old Schon-chin, of Yainax.

LEGAL AND HEREDITARY CHIEF

Of all the Modocs. He had quietly sat within a hundred feet of the scaffold, and witnessed the execution of his only brother. Although he carried on vigorous war with the whites 20 years ago, since the Klamath and Modoc treaty of 1864 was concluded, he has remained faithful to its obligations, and has zealously advocated the white man's law. Repeatedly he visited the scouting band in the Modoc country, and counseled Captain Jack and Schon-chin John to return to the reservation with their people, but without avail. By request of General Canby, he was at the first meeting held with the Modocs at the scene of the massacre last spring, and on returning to Gen. Canby's tent, Schon-chin, in the presence of your correspondent, told the General that having seen the eyes of Captain Jack and his brother, and heard them talk, he knew they would

NEVER CONSENT TO LEAVE THE MODOC COUNTRY,

And that it was useless to talk to them, and that he believed he could do more good by returning to take care of his people at Yainax. He then asked the General's permission to go, which being sanctioned, the General took the old chief's hand, thanked him for his assistance, encouraged him in his loyalty, and on the following morning Schon-chin left for Yainax, satisfied that the Commission could accomplish nothing.

A half hour after the execution of his brother your correspondent accompanied the old chief to General Wheaton's quarters, where, taking the General's hand, Schon-chin spoke substantially as follows:

To-day I have seen my only brother [illegible] not the death which the Great Spirit [illegible] quietly to all good men—but

The following is the [illegible] value of agricultural lands per acre, for 1873, in the different counties as found by the State Board of Equalization:

Baker, $5 79; Curry, $4 34; Columbia, $3 18; Clatsop, $3 94; Douglas, $5 48; Jackson, $2 27; Josephine, $4 33; Lane, $3 83; Marion, $6 32; Multnomah, $11 28; Polk, $5 42; Tillamook, $4 08; Umatilla, $6 31; Union, $4 62; Washington, $5 21; Yamhill, $5 45.

Since Prof. Anderson has held the office of Superintendent of Schools of Washington county, sixty-eight certificates have been granted for Washington county: forty-nine to persons who had not attended the Pacific University or Tualatin Academy, and nineteen to those who had been students in the institution at Forest Grove. Eight candidates who had attended school in the Pacific University or Tualatin Academy, and four taught elsewhere, have been refused certificates.

The party from McMinnville, consisting of Thad. Dupois and lady, Jeff. Harris and others, who went to the coast some time ago, met with a bad accident at the second crossing of Salmon river. By some mishap the wagon was overturned, and Miss Dosia Price had her arm dislocated at the shoulder. The pain was so great that she could not stand the trip back in that condition, so her companions tried to get the joint, and thought at first they had succeeded; but the injured part kept getting worse until they reached home, last Sunday evening.

A gentleman from the Fish-Hawk settlement, on Nehalem, informs the Yamhill Reporter that the road from Washington county to Astoria, via Nehalem valley, is making slow progress. The State appropriated $20,000 in bonds to aid in the construction; these bonds were first sold at 80 cents, but have gradually depreciated to 30 cents. The survey has been made as far as the Klaskanine, twelve miles from Astoria. The eighty-five miles of surveying have used up $11,000 of the appropriation. He thinks the remainder will complete the survey if judiciously expended.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 10 1873

A DASTARDLY ASSAULT

In yesterday's Bulletin appeared a communication signed by one David Powell, in which is the writer narrates what purports to be a conversation with W Lair Hill editor of the OREGONIAN Mr Hill whilst the parties to it were returning from the Albany Convention One paragraph reads as follows

On the way down he [W Lair Hill and I David Powell] had a conversation on the Convention and on party affairs in general He stated in the most emphatic language that he cared nothing whatever for the Republican party that his only object was to beat it that he intended to defeat it in this State and cared not for the party Its end nothing I ask of the party and I wanted nothing except to disrupt and beat it

Mr W Lair Hill is now absent from this State and as the reform unable to defend the author of the above in the proper manner In his absence we pronounce the author of the charge a coward Lair

Mr Hill's views on the questions at issue the status of the party and the duties of Republicans in the present campaign have been stated fearlessly and with sufficient clearness through the columns of the OREGONIAN. In public and in private he has repeatedly said that the Albany Convention in its unauthorized action on the Mitchell resolution compromised the Republican party to the extent of endorsing Senator Mitchell's flagrant social crimes He has as frequently said that the only course remaining for conscientious Republicans was a decided and unmistakable repudiation of the whole thing To this end he advised all Republicans who value the principles of Republicanism above the mere organ of its administration and who esteemed their good name as citizens and as partisans above the paltry success to be obtained only at the sacrifice of principle, to refrain altogether from voting What Mr. Hill did say to David Powell was this That the party organization had been betrayed by just such men as Powell into the hands of bad and unscrupulous politicians and that it was the duty of every Republican to defeat the conspiracy hatched in the Albany Convention He did say that while the organization might suffer a temporary defeat, the great moral ideas from which its growth and power sprang are beyond the reach of rings and cliques, that a defeat at this time would prove beneficial in the end, because it would purge the party of certain unclean elements which had always hindered it in the past He said, too, that Republicans should withhold their support from the Albany ticket because he stands as the silent champion of a cause that is utterly indefensible by the ordinary methods of political discussion; that the integrity of the party and the honor of its members would be best vindicated by the defeat of all efforts to pervert the noble aims of the organization to the selfish ends of any man or set of men, that the Republican party must rely for success upon honesty in legislation and purity in administration. This is the substance of the conversation as related by Mr Hill immediately after the occurrence to several gentlemen in this city who will vouch for the correctness of our statement if need be

But is any man so blind that he can not see on the face of David Powell's statements palpable evidences of their falsity? The OREGONIAN has declared its fidelity to Republican principles and hurled times during this campaign It has denied charge after charge that it has renounced its allegiance Grant for a moment that it was insincere in this course, is it then likely that W Lair Hill would give those protestations the lie by telling David Powell—who is every where known as a servile tool in the hands of Holladay, Mitchell and Scott—that "he cared nothing for the party" The thing is absurd There is another feature in this matter which will stamp the publication of the letter with all the opprobrium of cowardice: David Powell waited until Mr Hill had left the State to put out this malicious version He is a dastard and a coward that the man who wrote the letter is, if possible, meaner than the signer

It is extremely disagreeable to us to be compelled to resist this wanton attack by the use of epithets But we cannot suffer such an assault to pass unheeded David Powell and the man who manipulates him may as well understand our meaning We stands our part in the discussion. W. Lair Hill needs no further defense at our hands. His Republicanism is as far above reproach as that of the associate editor of the Bulletin and his automaton, Powell, is beneath contempt

Joaquin Miller made no friends by the publication of "Life Among the Modocs" He was unmercifully excoriated by several of the leading literary critics of London In another exchange we notice this dignified rebuke from the London Athenæum We have been unfortunate enough to incur the displeasure of Mr Joaquin Miller Our reviewer having said that his new book (on the Modocs) was a dull performance, Mr Miller who thinks otherwise writes to us that he wishes to tell him to his face that he is a liar a coward and a cur Mr Miller states that he has written without quotation with his publisher We think that a gentleman of the high reputation of his publisher will be shocked when he learns himself by awarding Mr Miller in the courtesies of life and the advantages of education

In a paper on 'The Gentleman' in Politics in Scribner's for October Dr Holland very truthfully says

We do not think that the worst feature of our politics is lack of intelligence in politicians There is a great deal of cultivated brain in Congress Public questions are understood and intelligently discussed there Even there it is not always that scholarship shows superior ability Men who show the capacity to manage affairs on a large scale come from the plainly educated as from the ranks of scholarship Congress does not suffer from lack of knowledge as it does from lack of principle It is the men who push personal and party purposes that poison legislation If Congress were composed of gentlemen we could endure it better with what we have we have had it far worse off than we are to-day

A SCENE IN THE OLD CATHOLIC CONGRESS At the session of the OLD Catholic Congress recently Dr Wolck of Augsburg made a bitter attack on the French accusing them of provoking the late war and holding them responsible for all its horrors The speech caused a painful sensation Pere Hyacinthe and other French delegates were deeply offended and withdrew from the Congress

OREGON STATE FAIR.

Thirteenth Annual Fair of the Oregon State Agricultural Society.

STATE FAIR GROUNDS Oct 1 1873

The day was ushered in by a heavy drenching rain with gloom as deep as if it were in the middle of December The ground to be roughly soaked and terribly cut up The multitudes kept away knowing about with us calling in service some of the hacks that remain to accommodate the crowd Everybody curses the city the weather and both at the said exhibition of arts that had such flattering prospects The rain has also stunned the Fair financially and otherwise but still seems disposed to make the best of the occasion and maintain a creditable and good humor If the weather had been calm the chances would have been the first week and Fair would have been much superior to any Fair held here before There would have been at least twenty five thousand people here yesterday and to-day Instead of this a gaping crowd of campers who depend for this purpose on the Fair and speculation, a work of retrenchment and reformation have taken their turn in

HALL

The Hall is filled to overflowing It attracts considerable attention Here exhibitors are called to

with Lathing, Milwaukie has twenty five varieties of Apples and was awarded first premium for the largest collection and first premium for the best thirteen varieties He has twenty varieties of Pears all good size and varieties Plums and seven of Peaches

Mr W B Watson of Hood River Wasco county exhibits one hundred and seventeen varieties of Apples and would have been awarded the first premium for the best twelve varieties had not his assortment exceeded the number that was required by the rules He has also two varieties of Quinces that was pronounced excellent for size and maturity He also exhibited two species of seedling Peaches of large size and delicious to the taste

Mr G W Watling of Oswego exhibits 22 varieties of pears which the committee were examining when I took my notes This is a splendid collection He has also eight varieties of plums consisting of the celebrated Italian German and French species One limb of the German contains about 150 fine plums and the branch is only 24 inches in length All are well developed Mr Watling has four varieties of prunes one of quinces, butternuts black walnuts and chestnuts all of Oregon production Of the latter one is native and was discovered in the Cascade Mountains near Mount Hood Mr Watling had both the burrs and nuts Although not so large as the imported nuts, they are of good quality and as sweet He also had a splendid collection of dried prunes plums peaches pears and other fruits He sold 10 000 pounds of dried prunes for $2 000 and $1 000 worth of green from the same orchard the latter more than paying the expense of drying the 10 000 pounds

Mr J Blanchett of Milwaukie exhibits 70 varieties of apples 25 of pears 1 of quince 2 of peaches The first premium was awarded him for the best 25 varieties and the second premium for the best exhibit of 12 varieties properly named

S Long takes a first premium for the largest three of any variety They are of the Colorix Mundi style, and are about the size of young pumpkins

Mr H W Prettyman exhibits 82 varieties of apples and 18 of pears Among them is the justly celebrated Comte de Lanmy the only specimen of the kind in the State Mr Prettyman has only one tree of this year The fruit is of a different shape from any on exhibition He has on exhibition several trees from his nursery of one and two years growth after grafting One tree I noticed had grown ten feet and four inches in one year He also exhibited three specimens of sun dried apples They are decidedly the best in the Fair, being remarkably white and well cured Mr Prettyman did not compete for premiums but merely brought his productions for examination

Mr B Hanson of the East Portland Nursery, exhibited 24 varieties of apples and 12 of pears He was awarded the first premium for best 12 varieties and the second premium for best four varieties of apples

GRAPES

The year has been a disastrous for grape culture The late rains and frost have almost ruined this crop especially that of domestic varieties but the foreign grapes being apparently more hardy matured somewhat better Mr A R Shipley is the only exhibitor of this class of fruit Although he has his vines and nearly a hundred varieties he brought but forty with him The following are the principal varieties

Native Concord Delaware Allens Hybrid Isabellas Iona Creveling Hartford Emmolan Argus Ann, and Goethe

R R Round of Junction City has a grain separator on exhibition for cleaning seed grain for farmers This is a convenient and valuable machine for farmers Its always takes the first prize in the class He sells them at $60 each

THE EXAMINATION OF STOCK

Excited great interest with breeders of thoroughbred cattle S C Reed a former Governor General two year old bull took the first prize and carried his blue ribbon with deserved honor Lord of the Valley carried away the first prize as a former in milk or shorthorn bull He is the only bull that ever beat Governor General Capt Jack took the blue ribbon also as the best year old bull

Mr Reed's shorthorn cows Rose Seventeenth and Ghost Sixth carried off before them as the best in exhibition and were deservedly honored with blue ribbons His Ayrshire cow Beauty took the first prize in her class and his cow Dairymaid got the second prize Dairymaid a bull eleven months old got the blue ribbon and Horace a bull calf of the same got the red ribbon

R F Stewart & Sons took the second prize for their three year old thoroughbred shorthorn cow Belle of Wallamet Oak the first prize on their two year old cow Bonnie Belle Fifth the second prize on their two year old cow Miss Miller and the second prize on their bull calf St Joseph These are all choice and beautiful animals The thoroughbred Ayrshires took the second prize on their three year old bull Fecundus Farmer Their bull calf Williamette Farmer carried off the blue ribbon The two year old cow Rose took the first premium and the heifer called Heifer Myrtle took the first ribbon also Their thoroughbred two year old Holstein bull Fourth Lord of Tansilver and their two year old cow Mildwould of the same class both got first prizes

Among the graded stock of heifer calves Fisk and Walker of Salem took first prize and R F Stewart and Sons took the second premium

Among the grades one year old heifers George Dimick of Marion county took the blue ribbon

Among the graded fat cattle J J Burton of Yamhill got the blue ribbon and Fisk and Walker of Salem, took the second prize

A very interesting scene took place when Master Frank Hertford of Waldo Hills Marion county responded to the call for the best yoke of oxen year old steers trained by a boy under fourteen years of age The appearance of this lad with his admirably trained yoke of well matched pure red calf steers, elicited universal admiration and the blue ribbon there awarded to both the steers and the boy said general acclamation

A grand sight was witnessed when the herds of fine cattle and one bull to each herd made their appearance for competition C S Reed of Portland R F Stewart and Sons of South Yamhill and Fisk and Walker, of Salem competed for the prizes in this list They brought out their choicest thoroughbred shorthorns and fifteen fine animals never made their appearance at the Oregon State Fair grounds The blue ribbon was awarded to S C Reed's herd.

The exhibition and competition for the sweepstakes for the best bull was equally as grand and imposing as the forming Mr Reed's bull Governor General took the first prize

In the sweepstakes for the best cow Mr Reed's famous shorthorn Rose Sovereign beat all competitors

For the greatest number of winners of first class prizes in thoroughbred cattle the gold medal was awarded to S C Reed Mr Reed's stock of cattle on exhibition at this Fair is one of its great attractions and the subject of universal admiration They reflect honor on him as a breeder and on the stock men of Oregon and do ample credit to Mr Watson his eminently qualified and indefatigable manager Those remarks apply with more or less truth to Messrs R F Stewart & Sons of North Yamhill, Fisk & Walker of Salem and Mr C W Dimick of Hubbard Station Marion county

The exhibits of cattle sheep and horses at this state fair for great numbers and thoroughbreds will long be remembered with pleasure, and gladly by all who have had the satisfaction of seeing them It is a fresh start in the future progress of the state that few of the Oregonians ever expected to witness

RUN OVER AND KILLED.—A passenger who came down on the east side train last evening furnishes the following particulars of the death of a man named Mike Beard, who was run over by the locomotive on Wednesday. The freight train bound south had passed Tangent about one mile when the engineer observed Beard several hundred yards distant coming slowly down the track. Thinking, as a matter of course, the man would step off the track in time, the engineer allowed the train to travel at its usual speed. It bore down with fearful rapidity, and the intervening space grew each moment more narrow. Still Beard made no move to place himself out of peril. Engineer McDonald tapped the bell as a signal to clear the track. But the warning was unheeded. Again the engineer sounded the whistle to warn the man of the impending danger. Beard merely looked up, and continued to approach in an unconcerned and fearless manner. Knowing that the man must be either drunk or crazy, the engineer called loudly for the brakes. These were applied vigorously and the engine reversed, but the heavy train could not be suddenly checked. Beard was caught on the cow-catcher and hurled several rods to one side of the track. A frightful gash was cut on one side of the head, his right arm shattered and several ribs crushed. He survived but a short time. The train was stopped, and the mangled remains were conveyed back to Tangent. Deceased was addicted to the occasional habit of drinking, and he evidently must have been under the influence of liquor at the time of the shocking casualty. He was aged 50 years, and unmarried. Under the circumstances, no blame can be attached to the engineer.

GOOD EFFECTS.—The late heavy rains which have visited the valley in such copious abundance have resulted almost disastrously to the success of the State Fair, as regards attendance and [illegible]. But the farming and shipping interests of the country have been greatly benefited by the visitations of the watery elements. Farmers are over the rush of harvest and are prepared to commence fall ploughing. Rain, of all else, was most needed to soften the dry soil and prepare it for the ploughshare. In this [illegible] the present rain has come a most welcome benefit. With the quantity which has already descended the farmers need no longer delay the beginning of work preparatory to sowing fall crops. Equally with the farmers, do the Willamette River Transportation Company rejoice in the coming of these fall showers. The river has already begun to rise, and soon the stage of water, as far up as the limits of navigation, will admit of the passage of steamers. Whenever this is the case, the company will dispatch their boats to points along the Upper Willamette. Immense quantities of wheat are stored along the river awaiting the resumption of navigation. We shall soon expect to see vast quantities of the cereal come pouring in when the company's steamers begin to make regular trips again.

DEATH OF MISS BURKE.—Miss Clarissa Burke, adopted daughter of W. P. Burke, Esq., departed this life early yesterday morning, of consumption, after a long and painful illness of several months. Deceased was aged 23 years. She was a most amiable and estimable young lady, highly [illegible] and cultivated; graceful and [illegible]. By the many [illegible] both of mind and heart, developed by this young lady in life, she endeared herself closely to a large circle of friends, who mourn the sad but peaceful death of one so young, so gentle, and so accomplished.

CARED FOR.—The little girl, Mary E. Sullivan, who was rescued from a house of ill-fame a few nights ago, by officer Burk, was taken to the residence of Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth, and given over to that lady to be taken care of, as she has charge of the Home for the destitute. She is to be taken from there by Mr. W. P. Burke, who intends to see that she receives all the care that he can bestow upon her. She will be sent to school as long at she wishes to go. Such an act of disinterested charity is certainly very commendable.

WILL OF THE LATE MRS. HOLLADAY.—A late Eastern exchange says: Last week a will of the late Mrs. Ben Holladay, of White Plains, dated 1871, was presented for probate in the Surrogate's office, by S. L. M. Barlow. Surrogate Coffin has received notice that there is another will, and that there will be a contest. Mrs. Holladay's estate is immense. She owned 12,000 acres of land near White Plains, twenty buffaloes, several antelopes, numerous wolves, elk, deer, and other zoological curiosities are among her personal effects.

MOVING ABOUT.—Yesterday afternoon the steamer Eagle was moving up and down the river in front of the city, as if she was anxious to give her new [illegible] vessel, untried machinery exercise. She is all ready for service, and will be dispatched for the Upper Willamette as soon as the [illegible] of water will admit. The Shoshone, having just gone a thorough overhauling at Carter's wharf, also steamed down yesterday afternoon to the W. R. T. Co.'s wharf.

INUNDATED.—The basement of the building at the corner of First and Yamhill streets, was flooded on Wednesday night on account of the heavy rains. Mr. P. Selling occupies the store-room above. Some little damage was sustained as a quantity of salt and sugar was stored in the cellar. The entrance to the mouth of the sewer, at the corner had been choked with drift-wood and the water ran over and inundated the basement.

DEATH OF MRS. BALL.—Mrs. Ball, consort of Charles A. Ball, Esq., the young and well-known attorney of this city, departed this life yesterday at the residence of her father in Washington county, after a painfully protracted illness. A loving husband, two children, and a large circle of friends survive to mourn the loss of a true wife, a faithful mother and an [illegible] friend.

TO BE DESIGNATED.—Deputy Sheriff W. R. Sewall, being authorized by the County Court, will visit this afternoon the several precincts included within the limits of the city, and designate the respective polling places, for the special election to be held on Monday next. To-morrow, morning we shall publish the places of voting in each precinct, for the benefit of voters.

FOG SIGNAL.—We are informed by Mr. Robert that work on the new steam fog-whistle at New Dungeness is progressing rapidly. A large force of men are now employed, and everything is expected to be in readiness to commence sounding by the first of November. The boiler which is to be used is nearly completed in San Francisco, and will soon be shipped.

SHOALWATER REPAIRS.—Mr. Hiram Ebright departed for Shoalwater Bay a short time since to superintend personally repairs which are being made to the lighthouse at that point. A number of out-buildings are to be erected, and some repairs made to the main building. It is thought that the entire work will require about two months' time to complete.

IN RESPECT.—In respect to the memory of Miss Clarissa Burke, who departed life on Thursday morning, the flags were displayed at half mast yesterday on the little sloop Annie Devlin, which belongs to Commissioner W. P. Burke. Side by side the national colors of this country and Ireland floated in mournful significance.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.—Mrs. A. J. Dunway spoke last evening to a fair audience, at the Court House, in conformity to an agreement. She spoke in great praise of Mr. Hiram Smith and disparagingly of Mr. Nesmith, and prophesied that Hiram would be elected next Monday by 200 majority. The audience was respectable and attentive.

REMOVED—APPOINTED.—Mr. F. D. Holman, who has been lighthouse tender at Shoalwater Bay for some time, has recently been removed. Mr. James Anderson, who has heretofore been first assistant lighthouse keeper at Cape Disappointment, has been appointed Mr. Holman's successor.

COURT ADJOURNED.—In consequence of some important decisions which are to be rendered by the County Court, Judge Hamilton adjourned it until next Tuesday, the 14th. No business was transacted yesterday.

BY CARS ALONE.—Three times a week the freight trains on the east side come rolling up to the depot loaded with wheat. Each train has an average of 30 cars. These cars have a capacity of ten tons each. A train, then, of 30 cars laden with wheat would represent 300 tons; this, at present rates for wheat, would be worth $11,000, being 10 000 bushels of wheat. It would seem that money should be plenty when ten or eleven thousand dollars' worth of wheat is landed in the warehouse every other day.

SUBMERGED.—Two shell row-boats were filled with water during the heavy and protracted rain on Wednesday night, and partially sunk. Yesterday morning they were towed to the boat house at the foot of Pine street, and bailed dry and lifted out of the water.

LECTURE.—Mr. S. J. McCormick will lecture this evening at Philharmonic Hall. His subject will be, "Father Mathew, the Irish Apostle of Temperance." The proceeds of the lecture will be donated to the Father Mathew Society of this city.

INSPECTING.—Major Robert went down the river yesterday to the mouth of the Wallamet to inspect personally the work which is now being performed by the new dredger. He returned to the city yesterday evening.

FREE LECTURES.—J. Q. Welch will deliver a free lecture at the Hall street M. E. Church, commencing Friday next, October 10th, at 7½ P. M. Also on Saturday, the 11th, at the same time and place. Subject, "God and Nature, or Law and Adaptation."

CHANGE OF STEAMERS.—The steamer Ajax will not sail for San Francisco until to-morrow morning at 6 o'clock. The steamer California, bound for Sitka and way ports, has been postponed until next Tuesday, 14th inst., at 4 o'clock P. M.

CARGO FINISHED.—The brig Orient which has been loading at Carter's wharf for several days, completed her cargo of grain for San Francisco yesterday afternoon, and was towed down the river.

GOV. GROVER'S SPEECH.—His Excellency Gov. Grover addressed a large audience last evening at Oro Fino Hall, on the political issues pending in the canvass. Want of space precludes a more lengthy notice.

RESIGNED.—Rev. Bertrand Orth, who has heretofore been teacher in St. Michael's College, recently tendered his resignation. His successor is a Mr. Nichols, from California.

MEETING OF EMMET GUARD.—The members of the Emmet Guard are requested to meet at their Armory this evening at 7:30 o'clock, sharp. A full attendance is desirable.

FESTIVAL.—The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will hold a festival in the basement of the church on Wednesday evening next.

PERSONAL.

Judge Reed, of Portland, is attending court at Baker City.

Mme. Ca[illegible]n, the well known danseuse, is now lying dangerously ill at San Francisco.

Mrs. C. M. Carter and family returned home per Ajax, after a visit of a few months to her friends in the East.

Rev. Dr. Eckman, late of Portland, has returned to San Francisco. He officiated at Synagogue Sherith Israel on Saturday last.

Harry J. McCormick, of this city, is at present filling the position of salesman in the house of John G. Hodge & Co., San Francisco.

Rev. E. C. Anderson, D.D., formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church of Portland, and who subsequently had the pastorate of the Church at San Jose, California, now officiates as pastor of the Baptist Church of Petersham, Massachusetts.

Hon. J. K. Kelly, United States Senator from this State, has been spending a short time in Oregon. His family is in Philadelphia. The Senator will soon rejoin them in Washington City, and prepare for the labors of the coming Congress.

We learn that the health of Jacob Kamm, Esq., is much improved, and that he contemplates an early return to his home in this city. Mr. Kamm left Portland some months since to go to a more congenial latitude in consequence of his rapidly failing health.

Concerning Mr. Alvinza Hayward, the well known capitalist, the San Mateo Gazette of the 4th, says: Mr. A. Hayward, the esteemed citizen of San Mateo, who has done so much for the people of that place by the introduction of pure mountain water, is suffering from a relapse. He has long been an invalid, and the death of an only son a short time ago has probably shocked his nervous system.

We had a call yesterday from Alex. Chambers, Esq., of the firm of A. & D. H. Chambers, glass manufacturers, Pittsburg, Penn., an establishment that employs 400 men and boys. He is accompanied by his son James A. and Mr. Samuel R. Leonard, of the same city. They have just come from the Klamath Agency, and will leave for the Sound on Saturday, thence to Mexico via San Francisco, from which place they will proceed home.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

PERSONAL, LOCAL AND GENERAL, ETC.

[From the P. C. Advocate.]

The interest and attendance at the Hall street Sunday School is constantly increasing. The attendance last Sabbath was seventy-five.

Preaching services which have been discontinued at Oswego for some time, are resumed again, Bro. Roe, we believe, preaching there last Sabbath.

Rev. S. G. Havermale and family arrived per steamer Ajax. Bro. Havermale, it will be remembered, is stationed by the conference at Walla Walla.

Rev. W. H. Melose has entered Drew Theological Seminary, and has charge of a flourishing little church near by the institution. He is pleased and intends to graduate.

According to request of some Scandinavians, there will be preaching in P. Moore's Hall, at the corner of Ninth and D street, Portland, on Sunday next, October 12th, at 11 o'clock A. M. in the Norwegian language.

Bro. L. L. Rogers writes us from Springville, September 16th: "A sad bereavement has come upon my dear brother, W. H. Rogers and family. Their only daughter, Gracie, a favorite with all who knew her, died to-day."

Rev. T. F. Royal, who was appointed by the last conference to preach at Hall street and North Portland (Moore's Hall, corner Ninth and D streets) will hold his first service in North Portland at the above place on next Sunday at 7 o'clock P. M.

[From the Catholic sentinel.]

The two Sisters who visited Eastern Oregon Washington Territory and Idaho, to solicit contributions for the building of the Convent and Orphan Asylum, arrived home a few days ago.

From a St. Louis exchange we learn that Rev. Father Brantner, whom many of our readers will remember, having visited this coast last summer, has arrived lately in that city entirely restored to health.

We learn that Rev. Father Diehman, who left here last spring for his old home in Belgium, on a visit to his aged father, will probably arrive here some time during this month, accompanied by a young Belgian priest.

Rev. Father Richards, for several years pastor of Cowlitz Prairie, W. T., has been placed in charge of the missions of Kalama, Cathlamet and the stations of the lower Columbia. Rev. P. Hylebos takes the place of Father Richards at Cowlitz Prairie. We learn that efforts will be made to erect a suitable church at Kalama immediately.

Every mother should see that her darling boy is well clothed for the winter. Messrs. BECK & WALDMAN make a specialty of selling youths' clothing, and have a complete stock on hand. The prices are fixed to suit those who wish to economize. They have a full line of gentlemen's fall suits and everything in furnishing goods. They give satisfaction to all. Be sure to recollect this well known firm.

Dr. Sage's Purgative Pills will greatly relieve, if not entirely cure, dyspepsia when everything else fails. They have been tried in some desperate cases, and have given more relief than any other medicine.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Since the late rains real estate is said to be be very slippery.

The City Rifles hold the social party next Tuesday evening.

The residence of A. G. Cunningham, Esq., in East Portland, is nearly finished.

The Fair is continued till next Wednesday.

Work on B street extension is suspended for the present.

Postmaster Cole is having a fine brick residence built on the corner of Twelfth and Washington streets.

On the evening of the 16th the Progress Club will wait upon their numerous friends, who are to be invited to their rooms that evening.

Major Bell has added to his museum a ham weighing 2 lbs 11 oz., one of a number sent in on contract. He has labeled it "A Ham," to enable those inspecting the museum an opportunity of learning what nature the specimen is.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Try Blum's cigars. All he says of them must be true, for he is constantly opening new lots, and that is evidence enough. Read his new and attractive card.

Notwithstanding the disastrous fire on the 2d of August the enterprising firm of Bohlman & Rothlefsen have "phœnixed." They keep on hand and constantly manufacture all kinds of furniture. Read their card.

For sixty days Messrs. L. C. Henrichsen & Co. will sell their immense stock of jewelry, diamonds, clocks, watches, etc., at reduced prices. A person has no idea of the stock they have until a visit is made. Be sure and call. Read the ad.

OUT DOOR SPORTS.

In reference to the tournament our correspondent "M.," writing from Salem under date of the 9th, says: "Vini, vidi, victus sum"—is that it? That's how it ought to be to suit the present occasion, at all events. Base ball is at a discount here. As a certain limb of the law is reported to have said in Portland, some time since, "De bishness is played out, vat shall I do mit de key"—(ball in this case). This afternoon it was fine for a few minutes and the Pioneers played a picked nine from the College and Pacifics. At the end of four innings the rain put a stop to the contest, the score standing Pioneers 5, Picked Nine 4. The Fair is extended till next Tuesday. Some of the boys go off to-night. No game set as yet.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The debt of the City of Paris now amounts to $300,000,000, involving an annual expenditure for interest and sinking fund of $18,000,000.

The copyright of the Journal of Travel kept by the Shah during his late European tour is said to have been purchased by Messrs. Grant & Co., of London.

The Cologne Gazette says the number of Russian serfs emancipated from the 21st of October, 1861, the date of the promulgation of the ukase abolishing serfdom in Russia, up to the 1st of August, 1873, amounts to 6,992,494 men, without counting their families.

A writer in an English paper says "there can be no doubt now that the Vienna Exhibition has proved a failure. Vulgarly speaking, 'it has not paid.' There is, indeed, a growing impression that no great exhibition in future can be a financial success. The world is tired of exhibitions. They are no longer novelties, and, therefore, no longer attractive."

During the demolition of some old dwellings reared against the south wall of the St. Bartholomew's Chapel, Chatham, England, part of the original wall of the building of Bishop Gundulph, erected a few years after the Conquest, has been laid bare, showing several window spaces. Other interesting discoveries have been made, and excavations are going on.

The new Alexandra Palace is to be unexceptionably complete. Sir Edward Lee and Dr. Dresser, as a Commission appointed for the purpose, have purchased some of the most beautiful of the chalets in Switzerland, and several of the structures erected around the Exhibition building at Vienna, to be placed in the park in connection with the palace.

In Paris the authorities are setting to work vigorously to restore the ruined monuments. The Palais Royal is progressing rapidly, and will soon be itself again. The scaffolding for the Vendome Column—a splendid piece of workmanship—is finished, and the column is about to be begun. The Tuileries and the Hotel de Ville—or rather the remains of them—are also in the hands of the workmen, but several years will elapse before they are finished.

Intelligence up to July 4, has been received from Mr. Leigh Smith's Arctic Expedition. The Diana was met by the Sampson, latitude 79° 45' north, longitude 10° 30' east. She had relieved with provisions, which had to be sledged four miles, three Swedish Government ships, fast in the ice, at the north end of Spitzbergen. She has received stores from the Sampson. Mr. Smith expects to penetrate further north than any previous explorer.

PERSONAL NOTES.

President Grant will exhibit nine horses at the Missouri State Fair.

Ex-Vice President Schuyler Colfax is on the bills for a lecture in Oneida, N. Y., on Monday evening next.

A son-in-law of General Von Moltke is on a pleasure tour in this country. On Thursday he was in Utica, N. Y.

Vice President Wilson attended the laying of the corner stone of a new church in Boston on Wednesday. His health is nearly restored.

Alexander Davis, the colored candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Mississippi, is a carpet-bagger; a few years ago he was a barber in Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. Samuel Levy, the Mayor of Shreveport, is one of the best butchers in the State of Louisiana, and is untiring in his efforts to stay the progress of the yellow fever.

The suit of Elizabeth Parker against the Boston and Albany Railroad Company, for personal damages, has resulted in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $10,500.

Nathaniel P. Banks, ex-Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, is willing to be sent to the Massachusetts Legislature, and his fellow-townsmen of Waltham are willing to send him.

The monastery, near Fort William Henry, on Lake George, N. Y., which is the summer retreat of the Paulist Brothers, of this city, was a gift to the Order from the distinguished lawyer, Charles O'Conor.

THE ART OF COOKING.—LECTURE AT THE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.—Accounts of the lectures on Cookery given by Mr. Buckmaster at the International Exhibition are very appetizing. Recently he discoursed upon pot-au-fes, with practical illustrations, having his fires, braziers, stew-pans, and material all arranged, with several active and neat young women to help him. For his pot-au-fe Mr. Buckmaster produced meat and bone, for which he gave sixpence and halfpenny, being pickings from small bits which butchers always have for sale. The necessary vegetables, potatoes, herbs, and bread brought the cost of materials up to 1s. 3d. With these Mr. B proceeded to make enough excellent soup for six persons. While it was boiling the lecturer dwelled to the subject of Tripe, which was also cooked, together with Cow-heel. Then, the dinner being ready, the audience was invited to taste it. The general verdict was "Delicious."

Emil, Lowenstein & Co., recently burned out by the great fire, have removed their Stock of Carpets, Curtains, Coverings, etc. to No. 87 FRONT STREET, between Washington and Alder, where they can be found, selling off the entire STOCK AT COST, in order to start soon in new quarters with an Entire New Stock. All persons indebted to them are requested to call at their temporary place of business and settle up.

J. L. Lovelace, of Mill Prairie, has raised this season nearly 4,000 bushels of wheat and about 8,000 bushels of oats. The small fry among the farmers think he is a heavy institution.

Plenty of rain now on this side of the river. It came just in time for the farmers, but the workmen on the Sisters' building would have been glad to have seen the roof on before rain. Our friends at Salem have our sympathies.

Many valuable horses die from the effects of colic. The best thing to do in a case of this kind is to pour a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment into a long-necked junk bottle, add half pint of molasses and water, then pour the whole down the horse's throat. In ten minutes the horse will begin to eat.

CITY.

RUN OVER AND KILLED.—A passenger who came down on the east side train last evening furnishes the following particulars of the death of a man named Mike Beard, who was run over by the locomotive on Wednesday. The freight train bound south had passed Tangent about one mile when the engineer observed Beard several hundred yards distant coming slowly down the track. Thinking, as a matter of course, the man would step off the track in time, the engineer allowed the train to travel at its usual speed. It bore down with fearful rapidity, and the intervening space grew each moment more narrow. Still Beard made no move to place himself out of peril. Engineer McDonald tapped the bell as a signal to clear the track. But the warning was unheeded. Again the engineer sounded the whistle to warn the man of the impending danger. Beard merely looked up, and continued to approach in an unconcerned and fearless manner. Knowing that the man must be either drunk or crazy, the engineer called loudly for the brakes. These were applied vigorously and the engine reversed, but the heavy train could not be suddenly checked. Beard was caught on the cow-catcher and hurled several rods to one side of the track. A frightful gash was cut on one side of the head, his right arm shattered and several ribs crushed. He survived but a short time. The train was stopped, and the mangled remains were conveyed back to Tangent. Deceased was addicted to the occasional habit of drinking, and he evidently must have been under the influence of liquor at the time of the shocking casualty. He was aged 50 years, and unmarried. Under the circumstances, no blame can be attached to the engineer.

GOOD EFFECTS.—The late heavy rains which have visited the valley in such copious abundance have resulted almost disastrously to the success of the State Fair, as regards attendance and interest. But the farming and shipping interests of the country have been greatly benefited by the visitations of the watery element. Farmers are over the rush of harvest and are prepared to commence fall ploughing. Rain, of all else, was most needed to soften the dry soil and prepare it for the ploughshare. In this respect the present rain has come of incalculable benefit. With the quantity which has already descended the farmers need no longer delay the beginning of work preparatory to sowing fall crops. Equally with the farmers, do the Willamette River Transportation Company rejoice in the coming of these fall showers. The river has already begun to rise, and soon the stage of water, as far up as the limits of navigation, will admit of the passage of steamers. Whenever this is the case, the company will dispatch their boats to points along the Upper Willamette. Immense quantities of wheat are stored along the river awaiting the resumption of navigation. We shall soon expect to see vast quantities of the cereal come pouring in when the company's steamers begin to make regular trips again.

DEATH OF MISS BURKE.—Miss Clarissa Burke, adopted daughter of W. P. Burke, Esq., departed this life early yesterday morning, of consumption, after a long and painful illness of several months. Deceased was aged 23 years. She was a most amiable and estimable young lady, highly refined and cultivated; graceful and accomplished. By the many noble traits, both of mind and heart, developed by this young lady in life, she endeared herself closely to a large circle of friends, who mourn the sad but peaceful death of one so young, so gentle, and so accomplished.

CARED FOR.—The little girl, Mary E. Sullivan, who was rescued from a house of ill-fame a few nights ago, by officer Burk, was taken to the residence of Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth, and given over to that lady to be taken care of, as she has charge of the Home for the destitute. She is to be taken from there by Mr. W. P. Burke, who intends to see that she receives all the care that he can bestow upon her. She will be sent to school as long as she wishes to go. Such an act of disinterested charity is certainly very commendable.

WILL OF THE LATE MRS. HOLLADAY.—A late Western exchange says: Last week a will of the late Mrs. Ben Holladay, of White Plains, dated 1871, was presented for probate in the Surrogate's office by S. L. M. Barlow. Surrogate Coffin has received notice that there is another will, and that there will be a contest. Mrs. Holladay's estate is immense. She owned 12,000 acres of land near White Plains, twenty buffaloes, several antelopes, numerous wolves, elk, deer, and other zoological curiosities are among her personal effects.

MOVING ABOUT.—Yesterday afternoon the steamer Bonner was moving up and down the river in front of the city, as if she was anxious to give her new and as yet untried machinery exercise. She is not ready for service, and will be dispatched for the Upper Willamette as soon as the stage of water will admit. The Skookum, having undergone a thorough overhauling at Carter's wharf, also steamed down yesterday afternoon to the W. R. T. Co.'s wharf.

INUNDATED.—The basement of the building at the corner of First and Yamhill streets, was flooded on Wednesday night on account of the heavy rains. Mr. P. Selling occupies the store-room above. Some little damage was sustained as a quantity of salt and sugar was stored in the cellar. The entrance to the mouth of the sewer, at the corner had been choked with drift-wood and the water ran over and inundated the basement.

DEATH OF MRS. BALL.—Mrs. Ball, consort of Charles A. Ball, Esq., the young and well-known attorney of this city, departed this life yesterday at the residence of her father in Washington county, after a painfully protracted illness. A loving husband, two children, and a large circle of friends survive to mourn the loss of a true wife, a faithful mother and an esteemed friend.

TO BE DESIGNATED.—Deputy Sheriff W. R. Sewall, being authorized by the County Court, will visit this afternoon the several precincts included within the limits of the city, and designate the respective polling places for the special election to be held on Monday next. To-morrow morning we shall publish the places of voting in each precinct, for the benefit of voters.

FOG SIGNAL.—We are informed by Mr. Robert that work on the new steam fog-whistle at New Dungeness is progressing rapidly. A large force of men are now employed, and everything is expected to be in readiness to commence sounding by the first of November. The boiler which is to be used is nearly completed in San Francisco, and will soon be shipped.

SUPERINTEND REPAIRS.—Mr. Hiram Ebright departed for Shoalwater Bay a short time since to superintend personally repairs which are being made to the lighthouse at that point. A number of out buildings are to be erected, and some repairs made to the main building. It is thought that the entire work will require about two months' time to complete.

IN RESPECT.—In respect to the memory of Miss Clarissa Burke, who departed life on Thursday morning, the flags were displayed at half mast yesterday on the little sloop Annie Devlin, which belongs to Commissioner W. P. Burke. Side by side the national colors of this country and Ireland floated in mournful significance.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.—Mrs. A. J. Dunway spoke last evening to a fair audience, at the Court House, in conformity to an agreement. She spoke in great praise of Mr. Hiram Smith and disparagingly of Mr. Nesmith and prophesied that Hiram would be elected next Monday by 500 majority. The audience was respectable and attentive.

REMOVED—APPOINTED.—Mr. F. D. Holman, who has been lighthouse tender at Shoalwater Bay for some time, has recently been removed Mr. James Anderson, who has heretofore been first assistant lighthouse keeper at Cape Disappointment, has been appointed Mr. Holman's successor.

COURT ADJOURNED.—In consequence of some important decisions which are to be rendered by the County Court, Judge Hamilton adjourned it until next Tuesday, the 14th. No business was transacted yesterday.

BY CARS ALONE.—Three times a week the freight trains on the east side come rolling up to the depot loaded with wheat. Each train has an average of 30 cars. These cars have a capacity of ten tons each. A train, then, of 30 cars laden with wheat would represent 300 tons; this, at present rates for wheat, would be worth $11,000, being 10,000 bushels of wheat. It would seem that money should be plenty when ten or eleven thousand dollars worth of wheat is landed in the warehouse every other day.

SUBMERGED.—Two shell row-boats were filled with water during the heavy and protracted rain on Wednesday night, and partially sunk. Yesterday morning they were towed to the boat house at the foot of Pine street, and bailed dry and lifted out of the water.

LECTURE.—Mr. S. J. McCormick will lecture this evening at Philharmonic Hall. His subject will be, "Father Mathew, the Irish Apostle of Temperance." The proceeds of the lecture will be donated to the Father Mathew Society of this city.

INSPECTING.—Major Robert went down the river yesterday to the mouth of the Wallamet to inspect personally the work which is now being performed by the new dredger. He returned to the city yesterday evening.

FREE LECTURES.—J. Q. Welch will deliver a free lecture at the Hall street M. E. Church, commencing Friday next, October 10th, at 7½ P. M. Also on Saturday, the 11th, at the same time and place. Subject, "God and Nature, or Law and Adaptation."

CHANGE OF STEAMERS.—The steamer Ajax will not sail for San Francisco until to-morrow morning at 6 o'clock. The steamer California, bound for Sitka and way ports, has been postponed until next Tuesday, 14th inst., at 4 o'clock P. M.

CARGO FINISHED.—The brig Orient which has been loading at Carter's wharf for several days, completed her cargo of grain for San Francisco yesterday afternoon, and was towed down the river.

GOV. GROVER'S SPEECH.—His Excellency Gov. Grover addressed a large audience last evening at Oro Fino Hall, on the political issues pending in the canvass. Want of space precludes a more lengthy notice.

RESIGNED.—Rev. Bertrand Orth, who has heretofore been teacher in St. Michael's College, recently tendered his resignation. His successor is a Mr. Nichols, from California.

MEETING OF EMMET GUARD.—The members of the Emmet Guard are requested to meet at their Armory this evening at 7:30 o'clock, sharp. A full attendance is desirable.

FESTIVAL.—The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will hold a festival in the basement of the church on Wednesday evening next.

PERSONAL.

Judge Reed, of Portland, is attending court at Baker City.

Mme. Gougain, the well known danseuse, is now lying dangerously ill at San Francisco.

Mrs. C. M. Carter and family returned home per Ajax, after a visit of a few months to her friends in the East.

Rev. Dr. Eckman, late of Portland, has returned to San Francisco. He officiated at Synagogue Sherith Israel on Saturday last.

Harry J. McCormick, of this city, is at present filling the position of salesman in the house of John G. Hodge & Co., San Francisco.

Rev. E. C. Anderson, D.D., formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church of Portland, and who subsequently had the pastorate of the Church at San Jose, California, now officiates as pastor of the Baptist Church of Petersham, Massachusetts.

Hon. J. K. Kelly, United States Senator from this State, has been spending a short time in Oregon. His family is in Philadelphia. The Senator will soon rejoin them in Washington City, and prepare for the labors of the coming Congress.

We learn that the health of Jacob Kamm, Esq., is much improved, and that he contemplates an early return to his home in this city. Mr. Kamm left Portland some months since to go to a more congenial latitude in consequence of his rapidly failing health.

Concerning Mr. Alvinza Hayward, the well known capitalist, the San Mateo Gazette of the 4th, says: Mr. A. Hayward, the esteemed citizen of San Mateo, who has done so much for the people of that place by the introduction of pure mountain water, is suffering from a relapse. He has long been an invalid, and the death of an only son a short time ago has probably shocked his nervous system.

We had a call yesterday from Alex. Chambers, Esq., of the firm of A. & D. H. Chambers, glass manufacturers, Pittsburg, Penn., an establishment that employs 400 men and boys. He is accompanied by his son James A. and Mr. Samuel R. Leonard, of the same city. They have just come from the Klamath Agency, and will leave for the Sound on Saturday, thence to Mexico via San Francisco, from which place they will proceed home.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

PERSONAL, LOCAL AND GENERAL, ETC.

[From the P. C. Advocate.]

The interest and attendance at the Hall street Sunday School is constantly increasing. The attendance last Sabbath was seventy-five.

Preaching services which have been discontinued at Oswego for some time, are resumed again, Bro. Roe, we believe, preaching there last Sabbath.

Rev. S. G. Havermale and family arrived per steamer Ajax. Bro. Havermale, it will be remembered, is stationed by the conference at Walla Walla.

Rev. W. H. Meisse has entered Drew Theological Seminary, and has charge of a flourishing little church near by the institution. He is pleased and intends to graduate.

According to request of some Scandinavians, there will be preaching in P. Moore's Hall, at the corner of Ninth and D street, Portland, on Sunday next, October 12th, at 11 o'clock A. M. in the Norwegian language.

Bro. L. L. Rogers writes us from Springville, September 15th: "A sad bereavement has come upon my dear brother, W. H. Rogers and family. Their only daughter, Gracie, a favorite with all who knew her, died to-day."

Rev. T. P. Royal, who was appointed by the last conference to preach at Hall street and North Portland (Moore's Hall, corner Ninth and D streets) will hold his first service in North Portland at the above place on next Sunday at 7 o'clock P. M.

[From the Catholic Sentinel.]

The two sisters who visited Eastern Oregon, Washington Territory and Idaho, to solicit contributions for the building of the Convent and Orphan Asylum, arrived home a few days ago.

From a St. Louis exchange we learn that Rev. Father Brantner, whom many of our readers will remember, having visited this coast last summer, has arrived lately in that city entirely restored to health.

We learn that Rev. Father Diehman, who left here last spring for his old home in Belgium, on a visit to his aged father, will probably arrive here some time during this month, accompanied by a young Belgian priest.

Rev. Father Richards, for several years pastor of Cawlitz Prairie, W. T., has been placed in charge of the missions of Kalama, Cathlamet and the stations of the lower Columbia. Rev. P. Hylebos takes the place of Father Richards at Cowlitz Prairie. We learn that efforts will be made to erect a suitable church at Kalama immediately.

Every mother should see that her darling boy is well clothed for the winter. Messrs. BECK & WALDMAN make a specialty of selling Youths clothing and have a complete stock on hand. The prices are fixed to suit those who wish to economize. They have a full line of gentlemen's fall suits and everything in furnishing goods. They give satisfaction to all. Be sure to recollect this well known firm.

Dr. Sun's Dyspeptine Pills will greatly relieve, if not entirely cure, dyspepsia when everything else fails. They have been tried in some desperate cases, and have given more relief than any other medicine.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Since the late rains real estate is said to be very slippery.

The City Rifles hold the social party next Tuesday evening.

The residence of A. G. Cunningham, Esq., in East Portland, is nearly finished.

The Fair is continued till next Wednesday. Work on B street extension is suspended for the present.

Postmaster Cole is having a fine brick residence built on the corner of Twelfth and Washington streets.

On the evening of the 16th the Progress Club will wait upon their numerous friends, who are to be invited to their rooms that evening.

Major Bell has added to his museum a lamb weighing 2 lbs 11 oz., one of a number sent in on contract. He has labeled it "A Ham" to enable those inspecting the museum an opportunity of learning what nature the specimen is.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TRY Blum's cigars. All he says of them must be true, for he is constantly opening new lots, and that is evidence enough. Read his new and attractive card.

Notwithstanding the disastrous fire on the 2d of August the enterprising firm of Bohlman & Rothlisberger have "phœnixed." They keep on hand and constantly manufacture all kinds of furniture. Read their card.

For sixty days Messrs. L. C. Henrichsen & Co. will sell their immense stock of jewelry, diamonds, clocks, watches, etc., at reduced prices. A person has no idea of the stock they have until a visit is made. Be sure and call. Read the ad.

OUT DOOR SPORTS.

In reference to the tournament our correspondent "M.," writing from Salem under date of the 9th, says: "Veni, vidi, victus sum"—is that it? That's how it ought to be to suit the present occasion, at all events. Base ball is at a discount here. As a particle limb of the law is reported to have said in Portland, some time since, "De bishness is blayed out, vat shall I do mit de key"—(ball in this case). This afternoon it was fine for a few minutes and the Pioneers played a picked nine from the College and Pacifics. At the end of four innings the rain put a stop to the contest, the score standing Pioneers 5, Picked Nine 4. The Fair is extended till next Tuesday. Some of the boys go off to-night. No game set as yet.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The debt of the City of Paris now amounts to $300,000,000, involving an annual expenditure for interest and sinking fund of $18,000,000.

The copyright of the Journal of Travel kept by the Shah during his late European tour is said to have been purchased by Messrs Grant & Co., of London.

The Cologne Gazette says the number of Russian serfs emancipated from the 21st of October, 1861, the date of the promulgation of the ukase abolishing serfdom in Russia, up to the 1st of August, 1873, amounts to 6,902,491 men, without counting their families.

A writer in an English paper says "there can be no doubt now that the Vienna Exhibition has proved a failure. Vulgarly speaking, 'it has not paid.' There is, indeed, a growing impression that no great exhibition in future can be a financial success. The world is tired of exhibitions. They are no longer novelties, and, therefore, no longer attractive."

During the demolition of some old dwellings reared against the south wall of the St. Bartholomew's Chapel, Chatham, England, part of the original wall of the building of Bishop Gundulph, erected a few years after the Conquest, has been laid bare, showing several window spaces. Other interesting discoveries have been made, and excavations are going on.

The new Alexandra Palace is to be unexceptionably complete. Sir Edward Lee and Dr. Dresser, as a Commission appointed for the purpose, have purchased some of the most beautiful of the chalets in Switzerland, and several of the structures erected around the Exhibition building at Vienna, to be placed in the park in connection with the palace.

In Paris the authorities are setting to work vigorously to restore the ruined monuments. The Palais Royal is progressing rapidly, and will soon be itself again. The scaffolding for the Vendome Column—a splendid piece of workmanship—is finished, and the column is about to be begun. The Tuileries and the Hotel de Ville—or rather the remains of them—are also in the hands of the workmen, but several years will elapse before they are finished.

Intelligence up to July 4, has been received from Mr. Leigh Smith's Arctic Expedition. The Diana was met by the Sampson, latitude 70° 45' north, longitude 16° 30' east. She had relieved with provisions, which had to be sledged four miles, three Swedish Government ships, fast in the ice, at the north end of Spitzbergen. She has received stores from the Sampson. Mr. Smith expects to penetrate further north than any previous explorer.

PERSONAL NOTES.

President Grant will exhibit nine horses at the Missouri State Fair.

Ex-Vice President Schuyler Colfax is on the bills for a lecture in Oneida, N. Y., on Monday evening next.

A son-in-law of General Von Moltke is on a pleasure tour in this country. On Thursday he was in Utica, N. Y.

Vice President Wilson attended the laying of the corner stone of a new church in Boston on Wednesday. His health is nearly restored.

Alexander Davis, the colored candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Mississippi, is a carpet-bagger; a few years ago he was a barber in Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. Samuel Levy, the Mayor of Shreveport, is one of the best butchers in the State of Louisiana, and is untiring in his efforts to stay the progress of the yellow fever.

The suit of Elizabeth Parker against the Boston and Albany Railroad Company, for personal damages, has resulted in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $19,500.

Nathaniel P. Banks, ex-Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, is willing to be sent to the Massachusetts Legislature, and his fellow townsmen of Waltham are willing to send him.

The monastery near Fort William Henry, on Lake George, N. Y., which is the summer retreat of the Paulist Brothers, of this city, was a gift to the Order from the distinguished lawyer, Charles O'Conor.

THE ART OF COOKING—LECTURE AT THE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.—Accounts of the lectures on Cookery given by Mr. Buckmaster at the International Exhibition are very appetizing. Recently he discoursed upon potatoes, with practical illustrations, having his fires, braziers, stew pans, and material all arranged with several active and neat young women to help him. For his pot-au-feu, Mr. Buckmaster produced meat and bone, for which he gave sixpence and halfpenny, being pickings from small bits which butchers always have for sale. The necessary vegetables, potatoes, herbs, and bread brought the cost of materials up to 1s. 3d. With these Mr. B. proceeded to make enough excellent soup for six persons. While it was boiling the lecturer deviated to the subject of Tripe, which was also cooked, together with Cow heel. Then the dinner being ready the audience was invited to taste it. The general verdict was "Delicious."

Emil, Lowenstein & Co., recently burned out by the great fire, have removed their stock of Carpets, Curtains, Coverings etc. to No. 87 FRONT STREET, between Washington and Alder where they can be found selling off the entire stock AT COST, in order to start soon in new quarters with an Entire New Stock. All persons indebted to them are requested to call at their temporary place of business and settle up.

VANCOUVER ITEMS.

Freighting on the Upper Columbia seems to be greatly on the increase. The Oneonta, on her down trip, seldom arrives here till after 4 P. M.

Hop-pole shavers begin to gather in, and the trade promises to be lively this season. Sohns & Shadle are doing a good business in the barrel and lager-beer keg making line.

T. J. Fletcher, Esq., of Pendleton, is visiting his friends in Vancouver. He tries to make us believe that the climate of Eastern Oregon agrees with him, and that his health was never better.

J. L. Lovelace, of Mill Prairie, has raised this season nearly 1,000 bushels of wheat and about 8,000 bushels of oats. The small fry among the farmers think he is a heavy monopolizer.

Plenty of rain now on this side of the river. It came just in time for the farmers, but the workmen on the Sisters building would have been glad to have seen the roof on before rain. Our friends at Salem have our sympathies.

Many valuable horses die from the effects of colic. The best thing to do in a case of this kind is to pour a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment into a long necked junk bottle, add half pint of molasses and water, then pour the whole down the horse, almost in ten minutes the horse will begin to eat.

COLEMAN'S EUCALYPTUS

Dr. J. S. Coleman's Original Discovery of Eucalyptus is a preparation from the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its wonderful medicinal qualities, and has become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY ORGANS, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more speedily than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the highest results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 605 Kearny street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the use of Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS, Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1-lb bottles.

Beware of imitations, and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere, and by HODGE, CALEF & CO., Wholesale Druggists, Portland. Sole Agents for Oregon.

Third Day

SEATTLE Oct 3 1873

In yesterday's letter we promised to give a more explicit and full report of the varieties and kinds of the articles on exhibition

First, and of most importance was a very fine showing of

WHEAT, OATS

And other kinds of grain. Of wheat especially, the articles on exhibition could not be surpassed either in the sheaf or threshed. One gentleman Mr W Oliver Bush of Thurston county, deserves special notice for his splendid contributions to this department of the Fair. He alone had on exhibition fifty bushels of seven varieties of wheat samples of all of which could be seen both in sheaf and in sacks. Mr Bush also had five kinds of barley and nine kinds of oats, besides flour or five varieties of grass seeds. This gentleman exhibited sixteen varieties of potatoes many of which were the largest we have ever seen. Other parties had fine samples of grain but none nearly so good or numerous as those of Mr Bush who certainly has just cause for encouragement

THE DEPARTMENT OF FRUITS

Cannot be excelled either in quality or variety. Mr H A March of Whidbey Island had from his farm, fifty-three different kinds of apples and seven kinds of pears making in all sixty varieties of fruit, not counting several kinds of berries, etc

Mr Eldridge, of Whatcom county had also some splendid fruit, of which there were fifty two varieties. All told, there were on exhibition 106 distinct kinds of apples and forty two kinds of pears

In the minds of all who visited this Fair W[illegible] will undoubtedly be awarded the first premium on all kinds of vegetables, for a finer display we have not seen at any Fair held in our neighboring State. Among the things in this department, we noticed a [illegible] weighing 60 pounds, several squashes [illegible] weighing near 100 pounds, ruta bagas, beets and garden roots of enormous size and splendid quality.

Of stock, there is a rather poor display, although there are some very good

HORSES CATTLE, SHEEP AND HOGS

On exhibition One hog two years old, weighs 830 pounds

Mr. C C Kellogg received the first premium for the best stallion

Mr. McAllister received first premium for best five year old mare, and also for best matched span of horses.

Mr. R. Bagnell took first premium for best two and colt.

Mr. C C Clymer received first premium for best blooded bull

Mr. T. S Harris the first premium for best cow.

SHEEP

Of sheep there is a better exhibit than in anything in the stock line. Mr S Baxter has very fine Cotswolds on several of which he has taken premiums.

Messrs. Fuller, of Olympia, have [illegible] which are attracting considerable attention and upon which [illegible] have been awarded. Other parties have Merino sheep upon exhibition, some of which are of the very finest grades, and taking [illegible]

POWLS

[illegible] is a splendid display of fowls of every [illegible] including those of the rarest and [illegible] kinds

We comprehend all the most prominent [illegible] of the various departments upon exhibition and we can very truthfully say that the [illegible] of the present are creditably and [illegible] and we think the Fair [illegible]

[illegible] night the large spacious hall was [illegible] with people for the building [illegible]

[illegible] and [illegible] BRILLIANTLY LIGHTED,

[illegible] to invite entrance and [illegible] of musicians [illegible] played the [illegible] tion, who, while the large [illegible] were busily employed feeding the fine hall [illegible] the numerous articles on exhibition, favored the assembly with some excellent music So [illegible] of the pictures, flowers, fruits and numerous other horticultural productions, the shifting, many throng of observers, all added an animation upon the scene which was pleasant indeed, and one [illegible]

FRIDAY (Friday) evening there is a [illegible] at the Pavilion.

[illegible] ly attended The proceeds are to be [illegible] for the benefit of the Fair, although [illegible] will equal, if not exceed, all ex[illegible] of the Association

Fourth and Last Day.

SATURDAY, Oct. 4

Saturday has been the [illegible] and last successful day of the Fair. During the entire day and this evening, large crowds of people have been visiting the Pavilion. Most of the premium awards made this evening—at least all of importance, and there seems to be general satisfaction at the results of the various Committees examinations

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, Hon E Eldridge delivered the

in the Pavilion, to a large assemblage The gentleman's effort was very excellent, but [illegible] lengthy, lasting almost two hours, being [illegible] of its great length [illegible] this evening, at 8 o'clock, an election of officers was held (as all officers of the Association are only elected for one year). It resulted in the choice of the following: President, Dr [illegible] Vice President, Hon E Eldridge, Secretary, Mr G A Barney, Recording Secretary, Mr. R H Hewitt, Corresponding Secretary, Rev. O F Whitworth. It was [illegible] that the place for the next Fair should be Olympia, and the time, on or about the 20th of September, 1874

The Fair closes this evening, at which time a large number of articles upon exhibition will be taken off to the highest bidder. [illegible] this evening by Rotary Manning, Esq the

[illegible] OF THE ASSOCIATION

World fully equal if not exceed—the [illegible] of the Fair We acknowledge and return our thanks for the courtesies and favors extended us by the President, Rev O F Whitworth, and the Secretary, A. A Manning, Esq., who obligingly placed at our disposal all the facilities and reports of the Association This Association is but in the third year of its existence and taking into consideration the very general apathy felt upon such subjects, the few who have undertaken to awaken a proper and healthy spirit in the interest of agriculture, and the present sparsely settled condition of a great part of Western Washington the Third Annual Fair cannot be looked upon otherwise than as a complete success and as foreshadowing the not remote day when Western Washington will take rank foremost amongst agricultural States of the Pacific

THE TERRITORIES

The schooner Active arrived at Seattle on Sunday, with a general cargo

The tickets are out for a grand ball at the Columbia Hotel in Kalama on Thursday the 16th of October

Mr. John Cox, a native of the North of Ireland, died in Olympia at 11 30 A M last Tuesday, of heart disease

A Chinaman took the first premium on butter at the fair last week at Seattle as being the best exhibit of old butter.

There are five Granges of the Patrons of Husbandry already in Washington Territory and all are in the Walla Walla valley

The ship Shirley Captain Matthews, loaded with 812,000 feet of rough lumber was towed out from Tacoma on last Saturday evening.

The British ship Hesperus Capt Thomas Owens, arrived at Port Townsend on the 1st inst., 63 days from Iquique She will load at Burrard Inlet for Valparaiso

The bark Jenny Pitts from San Francisco arrived at Seattle on the 6th inst She brought a general cargo On Tuesday morning she went over to Tacoma with lumber

Capt. J. P C Dekroft has been ordered to the command of the Shubrick relieving S [illegible] Phelps, who is ordered to temporary duty as Lighthouse Inspector of the Twelfth District

The Methodists will hold quarterly meeting services at Olympia on the 15th and 16th of November On the Sunday before there will be quarterly meeting at Steilacoom and on the Sunday following at Seattle

George Gooding of Centerville Idaho fell from the landing at the top of the stairs in his brewery on the night of the 23d of September to the floor below a distance of about 12 feet receiving injuries from which he died on the following Thursday

Mr H Oakes, of Centerville Idaho was kicked by a mule last week from which injury she had to take his bed A large silver watch in his vest pocket received the cork of the mule's shoe and beat it up like a tin plate which probably saved his life

After a three year rest on the Olympia water the Eagle has again been made available by the passenger and freight traffic on the Sound and in Victoria making her first trip last Sunday night She runs about the same slower of anything and doesn't seem a bit refreshed by her laying up

The Bismarck Tribune says Brigham Young wants to locate on the Yellowstone Let him try it A man who has forty wives certainly ought to know whether his hair is tight or not but if one of Sitting Bull's champion barbers ever got a finger in the old plug among summer's chignon he would never after ward need the services of a tonsorial artist

The Kalama Beacon speaking of the Legislature of Washington Territory says "In politics the Council politically stands Six Democrats 3 Republicans House of Representatives Democrats, 22 Republicans, 8 The Republican party in this Territory has more than a thousand majority, if no put-up jobs are attempted upon it by tricksters who attempt to impose obnoxious candidates by the humbug cry of regular nomination' after 'stockin' the cards'

The sixth annual Fair of the Whatcom County Agricultural Association was held at Whatcom on Monday last The weather was the finest and a splendid turn out of men and women, evincing the greatest interest was present Premiums and diplomas were liberally distributed and the display was the largest and finest yet made The Society elected Edward Eldridge, President H C Barkhousen, Secretary, and John Bennett Treasurer It was also voted to become a member of the National Agricultural Association A grand ball wound up the Fair

The following comprises the number of vessels which have passed by or in the vicinity of the Dungeness light house, during the quarter ending September 30, 1873, for which we thank the gentlemanly lighthouse keeper, Captain Franklin Tucker, July—13 ships, 39 barks, 1 brig, 22 schooners, 9 sloops, 41 steamers—total 125 August—5 ships, 29 barks, 4 brigs, 14 schooners, 10 sloops, 30 steamers—total 92 September—8 ships, 32 barks, 1 brig, 24 schooners, 11 sloops, 38 steamers—total 110 For the quarter, total number of ships 21 barks 100, brigs 6, schooners 60, sloops 30, steamers 119—total, 327

Financial writers at the East claim that they can now see the beginning of the end of the present money troubles. Whether chronic difficulties will not beset the market for months to come is not the question, says the Journal of Commerce but the present perplexities are solving themselves so rapidly that in a few days, the unlocking will become general and the crisis will have passed Under the old safety fund system of New York, the banks were forbidden to loan more than twice and a half of their capital and surplus. This will be repealed, we predict, very soon, general law applicable to the whole Union If it be said that private bankers will not be subject to such a restriction, we answer that those large depositors who have withdrawn their accounts from incorporated conservative institutions that are compelled to publish weekly statements of their financial condition, and have placed their funds with private bankers whose situation could not be publicly known, have had a lesson too costly to be speedily forgotten

Our local finances are still working very close and nothing but the spirit of conservatism which has characterized the movements of those engaged in general merchandizing would have prevented the complaint of a genuine scarcity being now heard on all sides, but which is actually almost confined to the wheat buyers and shippers the community at large being but little effected The expectation that several grain carrying vessels will arrive here within a few weeks creates considerable inquiry as to a revival of activity in the transactions in wheat, but we are assured that the amount of grain now on hand here is quite sufficient to load all the ships likely to arrive within a month at least. Besides, the wheat buyers are without doubt as a rule short of funds and will not be likely to urge the market until some means of replenishing shall have developed itself, or their necessities are much more urgent than at present.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with improved facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Disease

How many thousands of persons both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence or from virus absorbed into the blood. Look at their pallid emaciated and downcast eyes and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid affection there is a regular until deadly close scheme. Let [illegible] guard [illegible] and attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible life-destroying maladies and that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for many years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are in any way interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all [illegible] in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be thankful and exercise strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, so universally practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, is producing with unerring certainty the following train of mortal symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz. Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the fal

THE SEATTLE FAIR

THIRD ANNUAL FAIR OF THE WESTERN WASHINGTON INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION

Third Day.

SEATTLE Oct 9 1873

In yesterday's letter we promised to give a more explicit and full report of the varieties and kinds of the articles on exhibition

First, and of most importance, was a very fine showing of

WHEAT OATS

And other kinds of grain Of wheat especially, the article on exhibition could not be surpassed either in the sheaf or threshed One gentleman Mr W Oliver Bush of Thurston county, deserves special notice for his splendid contributions to this department of the Fair He alone had on exhibition fifty five different varieties of wheat samples of all of which could be seen both in sheaf and in sacks Mr Bush also had five kinds of barley and nine kinds of oats besides four or five varieties of grass seeds This gentleman exhibited sixteen varieties of potatoes many of which were the largest and best we have ever seen Other parties had fine samples of grain but none nearly so good or numerous as those of Mr Bush, who certainly has just cause for encouragement

THE DEPARTMENT OF FRUITS

Cannot be excelled either in quality or variety Mr H A March of Bridge Island, hails from his farm, fifty-three different kinds of apples and seven kinds of pears making in all sixty varieties of fruit, not counting several kinds of berries, etc

Mr Eldridge, of Whatcom county had also a splendid fruit, of which there were fifty two varieties All told, there were on exhibition 108 distinct kinds of apples and forty-three kinds of pears.

In the minds of all who visited this Fair Mr H A March will certainly be awarded the first premium on all kinds of vegetables for a finer display we have not seen at any Fair held in our neighboring State. Among the things in this department, we noticed a squash weighing 80 pounds, several squashes weighing near 100 pounds, mangolds, beets roots of enormous size and splendid

DAIRY STOCK

Of stock there is a rather poor display, although there are some very good

CATTLE, SHEEP AND HOGS

On exhibition One hog two years old, weighs 600 pounds

Mr. T. C. Kelley received the first premium for the best stallion

Mr. Meade received first premium for best span of horses two years old mare, and also for best single span of horses

Mr. R. Rempel took first premium for best bull and colt

Mr. C. C. Clark received first premium for best blooded bull

Mr. T. S Harris the first premium for best cow.

SHEEP

Of which there is a better exhibit than is usually to be seen in the stock line Mr. S Baxter has a fine Cotswold on exhibition, of which he has taken premiums

Messrs. Stevens & Fuller, of Olympia, have a fine flock of sheep which are attracting considerable attention, and upon which they have been awarded Other parties have Merino sheep upon exhibition, some of which are of the very finest grades, and taking forms.

POWLS.

There is a splendid display of fowls of every description, including those of the rarest and most beautiful plumage, comprehend all the most prominent breeds of the various departments upon exhibition and we can very truthfully say that the poultry interests are creditably and handsomely represented, and we think the display of fowls the largest and finest ever made on the Pacific Coast

The large, spacious hall was filled with people, for the building was open and brilliantly lighted, and to invite entrances and exits at all hours of the day and evening. The tables were filled, while the tiers of shelving around the hall were literally loaded with articles on exhibition, and the whole presented a scene of the most attractive character. So large a display of fine pictures, flowers, fruits, and many other horticultural productions, the shining many throng of observers, all combined to make an impression upon the mind of the visitor that will be indeed, and one long to be remembered.

THE PAVILION

Is decorated with flags and evergreens. The tables are to be occupied for the benefit of the Fair, although the display will be of a character to surpass exceed, all exhibitions of the previous years.

Fourth and Last Day.

SATURDAY, Oct. 4

Saturday has been the busiest and most successful day of the Fair. During the entire day there was one large crowds of people having filled the Pavilion. Most of the productions were taken off the last evening, and there will be quite a number to be removed at the close of the various Committees.

ANNUAL ADDRESS

Was delivered in the Pavilion, to a large assemblage This afternoon. The address was very excellent, but owing to its great length it was not finished, occupying at 6 o'clock, an election of officers of the Association (as all officers of the Association are only elected for one year). It resulted in the choice of the following: President, Dr. Tolmie; Vice President, Hon E Eldridge; Secretary, Mr G A Barney, Recording Secretary, Mr B H Hewitt, Corresponding Secretary, Rev G F Whitworth It was decided that the place for the next Fair should be Olympia, and the time, on or about the 20th of September, 1874

The last hour this evening, was a large number of articles upon exhibition were disposed of to the highest bidders by Secretary Manning

The Fair fully equal, if not exceed—the expectations of the Fair. We acknowledge, and return our thanks for the many favors extended by the President, Rev G F Whitworth, and the Secretary, A. A Manning, Esq., who obligingly placed at our disposal all the facilities and tickets of the Association. This is but in the third year of its existence, and when its first organization was thought by many to be a failure, and sneered at by others, and doubted by still others, and looked upon with distrust by still others, and ridiculed by still others, and scoffed at by still others, and laughed at by still others, and pitied by still others, and wept over by still others, and mourned over by still others, and buried by still others, and resurrected by still others, and lived by still others, and died by still others, and buried by still others, and resurrected by still others, and lived by still others, and died by still others, and buried by still others, and resurrected by still others, and lived by still others, and died
